CHOOSING COOKWARE
Considerations Include Safety and Cleaning Ease

Choose cookware and ovenware for safety, ease of cooking and cleaning as well as for a pleasing appearance. Look for durability to stand up to daily use and good heat conduction characteristics for even cooking. Utensils should be made of a material that will not affect color, flavor or nutritive value of food being cooked.

The construction and finish of cookware should be such that the items are easy to clean. Avoid anything with crevices, seams or rough edges where food can become embedded. Be sure finish is smooth and even.

Look at the bottom of range-top cookware. Utensils should be level and flat, or slightly concave designed to flatten on heating. Such pieces will make the greatest contact with the heat source and help provide even, efficient cooking.

Don't overlook cover, knobs and handles when making selections. Top-of-range utensils need snugly fitting covers that won't fall off when moving the cookware. On the other hand, it should not be necessary to use force to remove covers.

Check that knobs, handles and handle grips on range-top and ovenware are heat-resistant, securely attached and strong. Strength and stability are safety features necessary when lifting a container filled with hot food.

Handle grips, especially on casserole items, should be comfortable and easy to grasp for putting in and removing them from the oven. Lift each utensil by the handle or grips. They should balance well with the weight of the pot to prevent tipping.

In general, try to buy the best quality the budget will allow. Cookware is used frequently and represents a substantial investment. Before purchasing, read labels, tags and manufacturers' pamphlets for information on construction, use and care. One other consideration in selection is to choose sizes and types in keeping with mealtime needs. Oftentimes, sets may be purchased less expensively than individual pieces. Be sure that all sizes included will be used.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Sugar Cookies

1½ cups sifted conf. sugar
1 cup butter
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon almond flavoring
2½ cups sifted all purpose flour
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon soda

Cream sugar and butter; add egg and flavorings; mix thoroughly in Medium Mixing Bowl. Sift dry ingredients together and stir in. Seal, refrigerate 2 to 3 hours. Heat oven to 375°F. Divide dough in half and roll out on lightly floured pastry sheet or board. Roll thin, but thick enough to pick up the design in the cookie cutters. Dip cutter in flour before each cutting. Cut as many cookies from each rolling as possible. The least amount of working with the dough gives the best cookies. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Bake 7 to 8 minutes or until delicately golden.

Make sugar cookies above. Then, before baking, paint designs on cookies with Egg Yolk Paint.

EGG YOLK PAINT

For each color, blend egg yolk and ¼ teaspoon water. Place in several small containers depending on how many different colors you wish to use. Add food coloring to each cup for desired color. Paint designs on cookies with small paint-brushes. Use a separate brush for each color.

Local Honorary Christmas Seal Chairman Appointed

Mrs. Emma G. Anthony, regional program director of the Virginia Lung Association's Central Region, announced today the appointment of Dr. Rufus Gordon of South Boston as 1975 Honorary Christmas Seal Campaign Chairman for the region.

In commenting on Dr. Gordon's acceptance of the duties of Honorary Chairman, Mrs. Anthony said, "Dr. Gordon has shown deep concern for the success of the lung association programs aimed at the prevention and control of all lung diseases, including tuberculosis.

He is enthusiastic about the 1975 Christmas Seals, also, because they were designed by children from the 50 United States and its four territories. They are your Christmas Seal greetings from the children of America."

Dr. Gordon stated upon acceptance of the chairmanship, "I am honored to have the opportunity to serve the Virginia Lung Association. The spirit of giving and helping is very appropriate at Christmas."

Christmas Seals have been spreading the message for almost 70 years working the whole year through against breath robbers -- lung illness, heavy cigarette smoking and air pollution. We're hoping that the entire community will support the Christmas Seal Campaign by using Seals on packages, cards, and all holiday mail."

Last week I mentioned The Scotswoman which is a story of Flora McDonald in fiction. This week I came across a biography of her by the noted author, Elizabeth Gray Vining, who wrote Windows for the Crown Prince. The latter is the story of the author's life in Japan while acting as tutor to Prince Akihito. In later years she returned to Japan as an honored guest at the Prince's wedding. This book is called Return to Japan but is not a biography.

The library has only one biography written by Jesse Stuart and it may be the only one he has written -- as that isn't right. I called the librarian and she said he also wrote To Teach To Love. That is one I must read. The first one is called God's Oddling and is about this father, Mick Stuart. You have probably read many of his books describing the country around Greenup Co., Kentucky, where he was born and still lives. The house in which he was born was a one room log cabin but it holds many memories of his father and their way of life. You will like this.

More biographies next week.

Well, about all of those on vacation are back home and ready to get back on their old schedule.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Wheeler attended the dedication of Spout Spring Baptist Church Sunday. It was a memorial day for Mrs. Wheeler as she was so highly honored for she was the first person to join the old church and the first one to be baptised. The new church is really nice. May they really prosper and more souls be saved.

Despite the rain Saturday night, the Reunion was well attended by about 65. A lot of grand food was served.
